

Contents

Foreword	v
Introduction	vii
Table of precedents	xix
Table of cases	xxiii
Table of statutes	xxvii
Table of statutory instruments	xxviii
Abbreviations	xxx
Glossary	xxxi

1	Preliminary matters	1
	Sources of employment law advice and representation	3
	Whether to bring a claim	9
	Outline of the employment tribunal process	12
	Sources of employment law	15
	Books	17
	Key employment cases	17
	The tribunal's power	20
	General note on correspondence	21
	Telephone calls	25
	File and diary management	25
	Adjustment of time limits for the purposes of the dispute resolution procedures	30
	The tribunal's duty to reject incomplete claims	34
	Whether to present the claim or wait for the outcome of the statutory procedure	35

xiv Employment Tribunal Claims / Contents

2 Before the claim 37

- Introduction 38
- The two types of grievance procedure 39
- The initial statement of grievance 40
- Dispute resolution procedures and ‘without prejudice’ communications 44
- Constructive dismissal and grievance procedures 45
- Borderline cases of constructive or actual dismissal 48

3 The claim and the employer’s response 53

- The formal claim 54
- The employment tribunal form 56
- Rejection of the claim 80
- Rejection for lack of relevant required information 83
- Amendment of the claim 84
- Late amendments 86

4 Getting information from the other side 95

- Introduction 97
- The tribunal’s powers 97
- Requests generally 98
- Deciding what to ask for 100
- Written requests and cross-examination 102
- Disclosure of documents 103
- Checklist for disclosure request 105
- Faked documents 111
- Privilege 113
- Requests for additional information 115
- Requests for written answers 117
- Applying for an order for disclosure, additional information or written answers 117
- Questionnaires 121
- The form for the questionnaire 123
- Checklist of subjects to cover in a questionnaire 125
- Data Protection Act requests 129
- Making a request under the DPA 1998 131
- The claimant’s disclosure of documents 132
- Responding to requests for additional information 136

5	The role of witnesses	139
	The role of witnesses	141
	Deciding what witnesses to call	141
	The role of witness statements	143
	Relevance	144
	Hearsay	145
	Evidence distinguished from argument	148
	The style of writing	149
	Accuracy	150
	Preparing witnesses: how far can you go?	163
	Translated witness statements	165
	Witness orders	166
	Tactical considerations on witness orders	168
	Absent witnesses	172
	Expert witnesses	172
	Civil Procedure Rules (CPR), Part 35	180
6	Negotiation and settlement	191
	Introduction	193
	The lawyers' role	194
	Withdrawing free assistance	195
	External factors	196
	'Without prejudice' communications	196
	What should be included in a settlement	197
	'Without admission of liability'	198
	Confidentiality	199
	Repayment of the settlement sum as a debt if the claimant acts in breach of the confidentiality clause (or other requirement)	199
	Settlement of any other claim that the claimant may have against the employer arising out of the employment or its termination or (sometimes) otherwise	199
	What is a good settlement?	200
	References	201
	Drafting a reference	202
	'Final' and time-limited offers	205
	Negotiating by letter	205
	Different methods of settling a claim	206
	Settlement after partial victory	219
	Negotiation and costs	221

xvi Employment Tribunal Claims / Contents

7 Default judgment, case management discussions and pre-hearing reviews 227

- Default judgments 228
- Different types of hearing 229
- Case management discussions 229
- Pre-hearing reviews 233

8 Approaching the main hearing 239

- Fixing the date 241
- Estimating the length of the hearing 241
- Postponement requests 244
- The bundle 246
- The content of the bundle 248
- Bundles for specific purposes 252
- Getting ready for the hearing 254
- The big three documents 254
- Bundles and witness statements 254
- List of issues 255
- Miscellaneous documents 257
- Observing a hearing 259
- Examination in chief 259
- Cross-examination 260
- Submissions 267

9 The main or substantive hearing 275

- Arriving at tribunal 277
- The hearing room 277
- Formalities 278
- The shape of the hearing 278
- Opening statements 280
- Reading time for the tribunal 281
- Claimants with special needs 281
- Taking notes at the hearing 282
- Evidence 284
- Submissions 289
- What can go wrong at the hearing? 289

- 10 Remedies 295
Introduction 296
What do you want? 296
Recommendations and declarations 398
Reinstatement and re-engagement 399
Awards of money 301
Evidence of loss 304
The schedule of loss 307
Enforcement 311
- 11 The decision; costs, corrections and review 317
The decision 318
Costs and preparation time orders 318
When to apply for costs or a preparation time order 319
Arguing for a costs or preparation time order 321
Preparation time orders 322
Resisting a costs or preparation time order 324
Changing the judgment 326
Applying for a certificate of correction 326
Applying for a review of a decision 327
Review and appeal 331
- 12 Appealing to the EAT: preliminary matters and the notice of appeal 333
Introduction 335
Terminology 335
Public funding 336
Free representation before the Employment Appeal Tribunal 336
The Employment Appeal Tribunal's composition and powers 339
What kind of appeal will the EAT hear? 339
Preliminary substantive decisions 343
Interlocutory decisions 343
Points not argued below 345
Starting an appeal 346
Drafting the notice of appeal 347
The choice of order disposing of the appeal 356
Remission to the same tribunal for expanded reasons 362

xviii Employment Tribunal Claims / Contents

Rejection of an appeal on the papers	363
Notes of oral evidence given at the original hearing	364
Affidavits	368
Responding to an appeal	369
The respondent's answer	370
Cross-appeals	372

13 The EAT hearing and after 377

The Practice Direction	379
The appeal bundle	379
The skeleton argument	380
Bundles of authorities	385
Preliminary hearings	388
Rule 3(10) hearings	389
The hearing	389
Advocacy before the EAT	390
Judgments	392
Costs	393
Withdrawing or settling an appeal	395
Getting an appeal allowed by consent	397
Further appeals	399
Funding an appeal to the Court of Appeal	400

APPENDICES 403

A Yearwood v Royal Mail	403
B Useful organisations	407

Index	419
--------------	------------